Regional Health Insurance Coverage in Oregon Results From the 2011 Oregon Health Insurance Survey

This is the second in a series of briefs exploring health insurance coverage and uninsurance in Oregon using information gathered through the 2011 Oregon Health Insurance Survey (OHIS). The OHIS, conducted by the Oregon Health Authority during the first four months of 2011, provides detailed information on the health coverage, access, and utilization of Oregon’s residents. The survey interviewed over 10,500 households. For more information on statewide results or on the survey methodology, visit the Office for Oregon Health Policy and Research (OHPR) Health Insurance Coverage webpage<sup>1</sup>.

This brief provides health insurance results on 15 regions in Oregon.<sup>2</sup> The map below shows the survey’s 15 regions. Regions are established by including a minimum of 100,000 residences and along county boundaries as often as possible. This approach results in counties with smaller populations grouped together regionally while larger counties (primarily those along I5) retaining their own regional boundaries. This method resulted in 8 counties with their own region and 26 counties grouped into 7 geographic regions.

<sup>2</sup> The regional health insurance estimates provided in this report originate from a different dataset than used in other OHIS reports. The use of this person-level dataset has a different weight process and results in health insurances estimates will vary slightly from other OHIS health insurance reports and estimates.

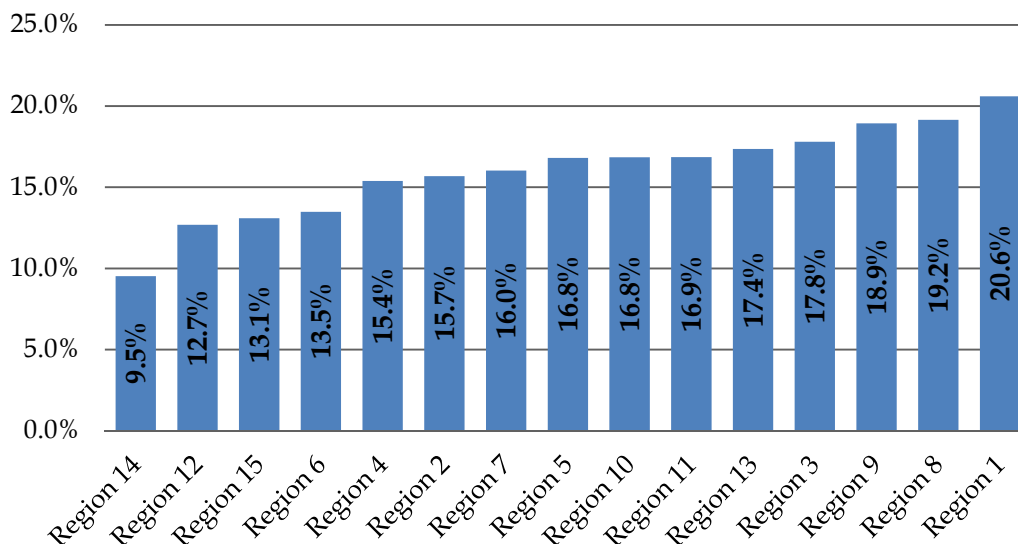

Uninsurance rates vary considerably by region. The highest rates of uninsurance are in regions 1 and 8, which occupy opposite ends of the state geographically but are both primarily rural in composition. The lowest uninsurance rate and only estimate to be under 10 percent is that of Clackamas County (9.5 percent). Table 1 offers the health uninsurance rates for Oregon’s regions, the upper and lower bounds (at 95 percent confidence) as well as standard error and regional sample size.

Regional Health Insurance Coverage in Oregon – 2011 Results

It is useful to examine uninsurance rates while excluding individuals 65 and older because most in this age group have Medicare coverage. Tables 2 & 3 estimate health insurance rates for Oregonians 18 and under and Oregonians 19 through 64 by region. The two tables expose vastly divergent uninsurance rates. One reason for this difference is the greater availability of publicly provided health coverage for Oregonians under 19.

Estimates of uninsurance for those at 200% of the Federal Poverty Level (FPL) and below and those at 201% FPL and over are shown in Tables 4 & 5 respectively. Poverty rates control for family size and household income. Living at double the poverty level or less increases the likelihood of being uninsured in both urban and rural regions of the state.

Up to this point, the brief has used a point-in-time measure of insurance status. Two alternative measures are uninsurance for the entire year preceding the survey (Table 6); and any gap in coverage within the last 12 months (Table 7). The individual regional reports, found in the following section, include age group specifics on these alternative measures.
